FROM THE
CHIEF LIBRARIAN

Discover@SHDL is one of our initiatives to communicate with our users. Siti Hasmah Digital Library (SHDL) has started its operations since 1996 and we would like to continue documenting our activities through this bulletin. It will be published 4 times per year.

As we are now in 2012, few months has passed. Looking at the journey we have gone through I can say that we managed to achieve significant impacts for last year. We manage to justify on renewing most of our online databases subscriptions while online journals which are less accessed has to be discontinued. With this, we managed to save our university money. Our online databases has been heavily used by MMU community which has reached more the half of millions full-text downloaded. Our new library system Virtua with CHAMO gives users with new perspectives which has attracted on how Online Public Access Catalog (OPAC) should be.

Discover@SHDL first issue highlights "Emerald's insider guide to getting published workshop" which has attract more than 100 participants. Our newly subscribed databases "SPIE Digital Library", database user statistics, Audio Visual collections and library facilities are being highlighted in this issue.

Hope everyone enjoyed reading our inaugural issue of Discover@SHDL.

2012 Year of Transformation.

Review:

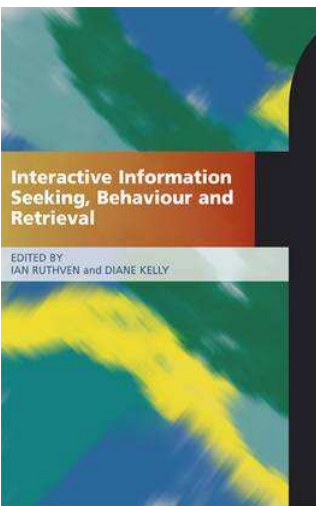

Communicating and Organizing in Context integrates Giddens' structuration theory with Goffman's interaction order and develops a new theoretical base.

Both theorists emphasize tacit knowledge, social routines, context, social practices, materiality, frames, agency, and view communication as constitutive of social life and of organizing.

Thus their integration in structuration interaction provides a coherent, communication-centric approach to analyzing communicating, organizing and their interrelationships.

This book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars as an orientation to the field of organizational communication and as an integration of organizing and communicating.

It will also be useful for practitioners as a tool for understanding how conceptual frames limit possibilities and constitute the nature of organizing and members' participation in organizations.

Review:

Information retrieval (IR) is a complex human activity supported by sophisticated systems. Information science has contributed much to the design and evaluation of previous generations of IR system development and to our general understanding of how such systems should be designed and yet, due to the increasing success and diversity of IR systems, many recent textbooks concentrate on IR systems themselves and ignore the human side of searching for information.

This book is the first text to provide an information science perspective on IR. Unique in its scope, the book covers the whole spectrum of information retrieval, including: history and background information; behaviour and seeking task-based information; searching and retrieval approaches to investigating information; interaction and behaviour information; representation access models; evaluation interfaces for IR; interactive techniques; web retrieval, ranking and personalization; and, recommendation, collaboration and social search multimedia: interfaces and access.

This book is also useful for practising professionals who need to better appreciate how IR systems are designed, implemented and evaluated.

Synopsis:

The 1981 mythological fantasy adventure Clash of the Titans is resurrected in this remake from Incredible Hulk director Louis Leterrier. Discovered at sea as an infant by a weary fisherman, demigod Perseus (Sam Worthington) grows up with no real knowledge of his celestial origins until his watchful guardian, Io (Gemma Arterton), informs him that he is the offspring of Zeus (Liam Neeson).

When Zeus' brother Hades (Ralph Fiennes) casually wipes out Perseus' family, the grieving son vows to show the gods just what kind of damage humankind can inflict on its creators. Before long, Perseus and a small group of soldiers are venturing out into the desert in order to find a way to stop the Kraken, a terrifying force of nature that an indignant Hades has vowed to unleash upon man should they fail to offer up beloved princess Andromeda (Alexa Davalos) as a sacrifice.

Synopsis:

Young wizard-in-training Harry Potter (Daniel Radcliffe) returns to Hogwarts for his fifth year of studies, only to find that the magical community seems to be in a curious state of denial about his recent encounter with the sinister Lord Voldemort (Ralph Fiennes) in the fifth installment of the popular fantasy film series based on the best-selling books by author J.K. Rowling. Rumor has it that the dreaded Lord Voldemort has returned, but Minister for Magic Cornelius Fudge (Robert Hardy) isn't so sure what to make of all the hearsay currently floating around the campus of Hogwarts.

Suspecting that Headmaster Albus Dumbledore (Michael Gambon) may be fueling the rumors regarding Voldemort's return in order to undermine his authority and lay claim to his job, Fudge entrusts newly arrived Defense Against the Dark Arts professor Dolores Umbridge (Imelda Staunton) with the task of tracking Dumbledore and keeping a protective watch over the nervous student body.

The young wizards of Hogwarts will need something much more effective than Umbridge's Ministry-approved course in defensive magic if they are to truly succeed in the extraordinary battle that lies ahead, however, and when the administration fails to provide the students with the tools that they will need to defend Hogwarts against the fearsome powers of the Dark Arts, Hermione (Emma Watson), Ron (Rupert Grint), and Harry take it upon themselves to recruit a small group of students to form "Dumbledore's Army" in preparation for the ultimate supernatural showdown.

The Bibliotheque de Paris (Library of Paris)

The Bibliotheque de Paris (Library of Paris) combined with the National Library of France, is the oldest continually running public library service, dating back to 1368 when it was housed at the Louvre by Charles V, "the Wise". The development of this library is ensured in period of king's son, Charles VIII and his successor, Louis XII with the manuscripts collection that been bought back from the wars in the Italy.

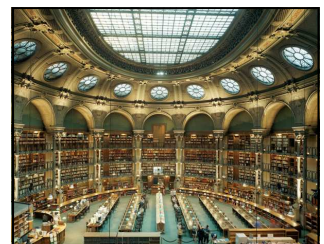

In order to ensure the continuity of the library collections growth, on December 1537, the king ordered all printer and booksellers to deposit any printed book sold in kingdom and this new requirement is then called "legal deposit".

Under Colbert (1666), the library is began to flourish which is the effort to move the library to two small houses on rue Vivienne in Paris and led a very active effort to expand the collections. The first classification system is developed by Nicolas Clement, who joined the king library in 1670 and some of the major principles is still used until 1997.

With the unique role and shaped by its own history, the Bibliotheque de Paris is the keeper of the national heritage as repository of legal deposits of French publications in many different media. The library is charged with four essential tasks:

- Collections: build and enhance collections in all fields of knowledge
- Processing: describe documents by their form and content
- Conservation: restore, reproduce, and preserve documents
- Communications and visibility: make the collections available to the public on-site as well as off-site and organize cultural programs.

Persatuan Pustakawan Malaysia and the Library Association of Singapore (PPM/LAS) have shared a common beginning since 1955. Both have come a long way to evolve into a stable professional association in their own right. Over the period of 56 years we have organized and participated in numerous series of meetings, seminars, workshops, visits and collaborations, which had benefited our profession and nation.

Continuing the networking, PPM proposed to host a joint conference in Melaka, Malaysia as a platform for exchanging ideas, sharing best practices and enhancing our professionalism. PPM welcomes participants from both nations to join the conference and social gathering. Do not miss this opportunity to network and mingle colleagues as well as to venture the historical city of Melaka.
